Women police stations in the country

3242. SHRI H.K. JAVARE GOWDA: Will the Minister of HOME AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) the number of women police stations in the country, with State-wise details;

(b) whether the existing women police force in the country is insufficient to deal with the cases pertaining to the atrocities committed on women;

(c) whether the State Government of Karnataka has requested for financial aid for setting up of more women police stations in the State, if so, the details thereof; and

(d) whether the Central Government propose to provide Central aid to States to establish women police stations, if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI I.D. SWAMI): (a) As per information furnished by Bureau of Police Research and Development, the number of women police stations in the country, State-wise, as on 01.01.2000, is given in Statement-I. (See below).

(b) "Police" is a State subject as per the Constitution of India. As such, it is primarily the responsibility of the State Governments to establish women police stations as per their requirements.

(c) No specific proposal for setting up on women police stations has been received from the Government of Karnataka in their annual plan for the year 2001-2002.

(d) Construction of police stations is one of the items for which financial assistance is given to the States as per their requirements under the Scheme for Modernisation of State Police Forces. The Eleventh Finance Commission has also provided funds to the State Governments towards facilities for women police personnel as given in Statement-II.
